FUTURA 1970

When you doubt the lovely silence
Of a quiet wooded place,
When you doubt the path of silver
Of some moonlit water space,
When you doubt the winds a 'blowing,
Flash of lighting, glistening rain,
Sun or starlit heavens above you

On the land or bounding main,
When you doubt the sleep of loved ones
Deep beneath some precious sod,
Listen to a soft voice saying,
"Be Still, and know that I am God."

BASKETBALL

High-Scoring Rebels Lack Size

The Rebel Basketball squad, although often dwarfed by opposing teams and playing with only one senior, managed to average nearly 73 points per game and treat its fans to some exciting race-horse basketball.

The season record was a disappointing 3-13, but prospects for the future are excellent. Freshman Clint Evans, who averaged 21 points per game, quick-handed Owen Kelsall (14.7), and defensive aces George Steffen, Stan Embry, and John Colgren are all returning. Coach Charles Balciulus is also looking for much improvement from big man Ed Honer and Carl Berg.

The only loss will be that of senior captain Barry Traynor, a tough rebounder and 17-point per game scorer. His graduation will make more rebounding on next year's team essential if the squad is to improve its record.
